British Guiana

- 770 George III, 1/4-Guilder, 1809 (KM 4). In NGC holder graded MS61, semi proof-like fields, and actually much nicer looking than the "grade" suggests. £150-200

780

781

- 780 George V, Proof 10-Cents, 1936 (KM 20). Brilliant proof, uncirculated. £300-400

Proof seems to be the only way one can find a choice example of this type coin.

- 781 George VI, Proof 10-Cents, 1939 (KM 23). In NGC holder graded PF64, brilliant but without the heavy frosting usually associated with a Royal Mint Proof. £300-500

it is possible that the 1939 World situation (ie World War II), may have had something to do with the different RM finish.

782

784

- 782 George VI, 10-Cents, 1939 (KM 23). Choice uncirculated. £50-80

virtually a twin of the example from the Diana collection that sold for £200

- 784 George VI, Proof 5-Cents, 1939 (KM 22). In NGC holder graded PF65. £200-300

785

British West Africa

787

788

- 787 George V, 2-Shillings, 1913 (KM 13). Attractively toned, uncirculated, probably from one of the cased boxes issued that year. £80-120

- 788 George V, 2-Shillings (2), 1914H, 1916H (KM 13). Both extremely fine. (2) £50-80

- 789 George V, 2-Shillings, 1916H (KM 13). In PCGS holder graded MS66, reverse nicely toned. £150-250

There were three pieces of this date in the Heaton Mint archives, but it is difficult to discern if this was one of them. In support of it being one of the archive pieces is the high grade and the blue reverse tone.

790

- 790 George V, 2-Shillings, 1916H (KM 13). Attractively toned, uncirculated. £80-100

791

- 791 George V, 2-Shillings, 1918H (KM 13). Choice about uncirculated. £50-80

792

- 792 George V, Specimen 2-Shillings, 1920KN (KM 13b). In PCGS holder graded SP63. £150-250

The example in the Diana collection of the same grade sold for £200

793

- 793 George V, 2-Shillings, 1923H (KM 13b). In PCGS holder graded MS65. £100-150

There were five examples of this date in the Heaton Mint archives. A few seem to have been Specimen strikes but they all appear to have been cleaned since coming to light. The small group of choice mint state examples that exist of this date serve as excellent type coins for those who don't want a 1936KN.

794

- 794 George V, 2-Shillings, 1925 (KM 13b). Darkly toned, semi-prooflike uncirculated. £200-300

Seems to have been struck from very fresh dies, very much giving it a 'Specimen' look. A number of these mid-1920 dates came out of the South African mint a few decades ago and it is possible this is one of them. The edge is not quite sharp enough to call it a Specimen

795

- 795 George V, Shilling, 1920 (KM 12). In PCGS holder graded MS66, rare. £200-300

Last year of the type and by far the finest that the cataloguer has seen for this rare date.

- 796 George V, Shilling, 1920G, thin flan, 23.5mm planchet, 5.67g (KM 12a). Extremely fine. £800-1200

797

799

- 797 George V, Specimen Shilling, 1936KN (KM 12a). In PCGS holder graded SP64, brilliant and very nice. £150-250

- 798 George V, Sixpence, 1913 (KM 11). In PCGS holder graded MS67, superb and multi-toned. £150-250

- 799 George V, Sixpence, 1916H (KM 11). In PCGS holder graded MS67, brilliant, frosty surfaces. £200-300

- 800 George V, Specimen Sixpence, 1917H (KM 11). In PCGS holder graded SP67, mostly toned in blues. £800-1200

One of the three pieces in the Heaton Mint archives. Not represented in the Diana collection. The 1918H and 1919H Specimen Sixpence coins in the Diana collection sold for £820 each.

801

802

803

- 801 George V, Sixpence, 1919H (KM 11). Choice about uncirculated, far better than is usually seen for this date and type. £50-80

- 802 George V, Uniface Sixpence, 1920KN, obv blank, a striking of the Reverse (not listed in KM). A few light handling marks, good extremely fine. £200-300

- 803 George V, Sixpence, 1936KN (KM 11b). In PCGS holder graded MS67. £100-150

The SP64 example in the Diana collection sold for £110

- 804 George V, Threepence, 1916H. In PCGS holder graded MS65. £300-400

While the Diana collection had a MS67 example of this coin, that sold for £400, this is virtually the same coin for some reason graded lower. The Heaton Mint did not technically do Specimens for the 1916H Threepence, but three pieces do exist, all superb with beautiful green tone.

- 805 George V, Penny, 1911H (KM 6). In PCGS holder graded MS65, frosty, a one year type. £80-120

- 806 George V, Penny and Halfpenny, 1911H (KM 6, 5). Both lightly toned, brilliant uncirculated. (2) £120-150

808

- 807 George V, Halfpenny (4), 1912H, 1913H, 1916H, 1920KN (KM 2). Uncirculated. (4) £100-200
the Halfpence are much more difficult to find than the 1/10-Penny or Penny

- 808 George V, Specimen Halfpenny, 1919KN (KM 8). In PCGS holder graded SP64. £100-150

810

- 809 George V, 1/10-Penny, 1919KN (KM 7). In PCGS holder graded MS66. £80-120 the lowest mintage date of the series.

- 810 George V, Specimen 1/10-Penny, 1920H (KM 7, specimen not listed). In PCGS holder graded SP64. £100-150

Only one piece in the Heaton Mint holdings, but this may be part of the more recent KN mint holdings. Not in the Diana collection.

- 811 George V, Specimen 1/10-Penny, 1925H (KM 7, specimen not listed). In PCGS holder graded SP65. £100-150

Three pieces in the Heaton Mint holdings. This is as close to a proof striking as one could imagine without being one. There is frost on the raised design with quite deep proof-like fields.
Unlisted in Krause, and not in the Diana collection.

- 812 Edward VIII, Proof Penny, 1936 (KM 16). Lightly toned proof, about uncirculated. £200-300
not represented in the Diana collection

- 813 Edward VIII, Specimen 1/10-Penny, 1936 (KM 14). In PCGS holder graded SP66, somewhat dull, probably rarer as a Specimen strike than the 1936H. £80-120

- 814 Edward VIII, Specimen 1/10-Penny, 1936H (KM 14). In PCGS holder graded SP67. £100-150
two pieces in the Heaton Mint archives and a few were released at the time of striking. Not in the Diana collection.

- 815 George VI, Specimen 2-Shillings, 1938KN (KM 24). In PCGS holder graded SP64. £150-250
the Diana collection had an uncirculated and specimen examples of this date that sold for £200

- 816 George VI, 2-Shillings, 1946H (KM 24). In PCGS holder graded MS66. £50-80

- 817 George VI, Specimen 2-Shillings, 1949KN (KM 29). In PCGS holder graded SP65. £100-150

There seems to have been a lot of experimentation with the coins in 1949 at the KN mint as the quality is up and down. They are found with very porous planchets and with various trials of striking power. This example is about as good one would expect to find for this date. The SP64 example in the Diana collection sold for £110.

- 818 George VI, Specimen Shilling, 1945KN (KM 23). In PCGS holder graded SP65. £80-120
- 819 George VI, Specimen Shilling, 1949KN (KM 28). In PCGS holder graded SP65. £80-120
- 820 George VI, Sixpence, 1952, one year type (KM 31). Choice uncirculated, only a very few spots compared to the typically heavily spotted examples. £100-150

- 821 George VI, Specimen Penny, 1940KN (KM 19). In PCGS holder graded SP64, more proof-like fields than the Halfpenny of the same date in this sale. £100-150

- 822 George VI, Penny (4), 1940KN, 1942, 1945KN, 1946KN (KM 19). Choice uncirculated. (4) £100-200

The King's Norton pieces all came from the recent dispersal of the final KN holdings but are not quite 'up to scratch' in the quality of their striking. It could be that less care was taken over their production because they were not intended for circulation but this is unlikely.

- 823 George VI, Proof Penny, 1945 (KM 19). In PCGS holder graded PR65, moderately toned. £120-150
Priced in KM at US$150. But the cataloguer has seen only two or three of this date in 30+ years, not represented in the Diana collection.
- 824 George VI, Specimen Penny, 1945H (KM 19). In PCGS holder graded SP66. £80-120

As often happens with a coin design that has been around for a while, the quality of Proofs and Specimens deteriorates somewhat. This current coin is an illustration of this happening. We can observe the characteristics of the Specimen strike but with less polishing of the die, which can be very time consuming and therefore costly. Not represented in the Diana collection.

- 825 George VI, Penny, 1946SA (KM 19). In PCGS holder graded MS65. £500-800

This is the rarest of the regular Pennies of George VI with a catalogue value in uncirculated of US$1150. Not represented in the Diana collection.

826

827

- 826 George VI, Specimen Penny, 1947KN (KM 19). In PCGS holder graded SP65. £80-120

Quite different to the Specimen in the Diana collection. This one is Superb and is the exception to the comment for the 1945H penny in this sale.

- 827 George VI, Specimen Penny, 1951KN (KM 30). In PCGS holder graded SP65. £80-120

828

829

- 828 George VI, Proof Penny, 1952 (KM 30). In PCGS holder graded PR66, brown and a little red remaining. £80-120

not represented in the Diana collection

- 829 George VI, Specimen Penny, 1952KN (KM 30). In PCGS holder graded SP65, red and brown. £80-120

the Diana example was in a lot with two other inexpensive coins and sold for £110

830

831

- 830 George VI, Specimen Halfpenny, 1937KN (KM 18). In PCGS holder graded SP66, superb quality for a King's Norton strike. £80-120

- 831 George VI, Specimen Halfpenny, 1937H (KM 18). Specimen strike, lightly toned. £80-120

Only one piece in the Heaton Mint holdings. This coin is from the more recent KN mint holding dispersal, where a number of Heaton Mint coins showed up.

832

834

- 832 George VI, Specimen Halfpenny, 1940KN (KM 18). In PCGS holder graded SP65. £80-120
- 833 George VI, Halfpenny (2), 1947KN, 1949KN (KM 18, 27). Uncirculated. (2) £40-60
- 834 George VI, Proof Halfpenny, 1951 (KM 27). In PCGS holder graded PR67. £150-250

A spectacular proof, as the grade would suggest. This is a three year type where even a choice uncirculated example can be very difficult to find. Not in the Diana collection.

835

836

- 835 George VI, Proof Halfpenny, 1952 (KM 27a). In PCGS holder graded PR66, brown and a little red, superb fields. £100-150
- 836 George VI, Specimen Halfpenny, 1952KN (KM 27a). In PCGS holder graded SP65 red, the colour is a little subdued but the fields are what we would expect for a specimen strike. £50-80

the example in the Diana collection sold for £65

837

838

839

- 837 George VI, Specimen 1/10-Penny, 1946KN (KM 20). In PCGS holder graded SP64. £80-120
- The quality of the King's Norton Specimen Strikes is rather wide-ranging in overall aesthetics, this current specimen is at the height of what was produced. Not in the Diana collection.
- 838 George VI, Specimen 1/10-Penny, 1947KN (KM 20). In PCGS holder graded SP65. £400-600
- This date was not generally released into circulation and is known mainly from the Heaton Mint archives. It does come in two levels of quality in striking's though. The Diana collection had a semi-prooflike uncirculated example, while this piece is more like the quality we expect of a Specimen coin.
- 839 George VI, Specimen 1/10-Penny, 1950KN (KM 26). In PCGS holder graded SP67, very nice for one of these. £100-150

the example in the Diana collection sold for £120 pounds

- 840 George VI, Proof 1/10-Penny, 1952. In PCGS holder graded PR66, glossy red/brown. £100-150

These late date George VI proofs do not normally keep their mint red for some reason. Not represented in the Diana collection.

- 841 Elizabeth II, Threepence, 1957H, one year type (KM 35). In PCGS holder graded MS65, a lovely early strike and one of three or so from the Heaton Mint holdings. £250-350
- 842 Elizabeth II, Proof Penny, 1957 (KM 33). In PCGS holder graded PR66, red and brown, the colour slightly subdued but the coin is superb, much rarer than the George VI issues. £100-150

- 843 Elizabeth II, Specimen Penny, 1957KN (KM 33). In PCGS holder graded SP64, red and brown. £80-120 not quite as nice as the example in the Diana collection that sold for £125 with an uncirculated example of the same date
- 844 Elizabeth II, Proof 1/10-Penny, 1957 (KM 32). In PCGS holder graded PR67 red. £400-600
One of the rarest dates of any of the British Colonial coins of Elizabeth, especially in such high grade. The Diana example was mint state. Perhaps only 3 to 4 proofs known.

British West Indies

Thomas Ryan Pinches (1814-1868) and William Pinches. Friedrich married The Princess Charlotte, Princess Royal, eldest daughter of George III, in London in May 1797, a few months before inheriting the kingdom of Württemberg. He used his contacts within the Court of George III to have the Thaler, which commemorates his Coronation, struck in London. It would seem the reverse die survived and was used by Pinches as a promotional piece, perhaps at the Great Exhibition of 1851.

Sultanates

- 933 Sultans of Dehli, Shams al-Din Iltutmish (AH 607-633; AD 1210-1235), Silver Tanka, struck at Dehli from the land-tax of Kanauj and infidels, date not clear but known from year 632, obv ruler's titles, rev citing the caliph al-Mustansir, one dot in each segment of both sides (G&G D36). Very fine, a little weak at edge, scarce. £180-220

Iltutmish was one of the most powerful of the early Sultans of Dehli. He did much to consolidate the sultanate in northern India, his realms spreading also to Bengal, where local governors issued coins in his name. He was one of the so-called "slave kings", brought up and trained while slaves but able to achieve high honour.

This coin type has the legend in the obverse margin: min kharaj qanaui wa kafar. There are a number of varieties depending on the number of dots found in the segments between the double squares and circle on both sides.

- 934 Sultans of Dehli, Rukn al-Din Firuz (AH 633-634; AD 1235), Silver Tanka, Dehli type, date not visible, obv ruler's titles, rev Kalima with caliph al-Mustansir, two dots in each segment on both sides (G&G D92). Very fine, a little weakness at edge, scarce. £150-200

Firuz was the eldest surviving son of Iltutmish. Weak and irresponsible, he allowed his scheming mother to control him and, as a result, the sultanate began to fall into the hands of various factions. After a reign of only six months, he was seized and executed. All his coins are scarce. As with the Dehli tankas of his father, coins are found with varying amounts of dots in the segments on each side.

- 935 Sultans of Dehli, Jalalat al-Din Raziyya (AH 634-637; AD 1236-1240), Silver Tanka, Dehli type, year 63x, in the name of her father, Iltutmish and the caliph al-Mustansir, three dots in each segment on both sides arranged in a straight line (G&G D100). Very fine and rare. £200-250

Raziyya was the daughter of Iltutmish and the only female sultan in all the Indian sultanates. All the Tankas struck in Dehli quote her father's name rather than her own, except for one very rare issue where her name also appears. Thus, in most cases, her issues can only be distinguished from her father's by the presence of clear date, if available, and one small variant in the obverse inscription.

- 936 Sultans of Dehli, Mu'izz al-Din Bahram (AH 637-639; AD 1240-1242), Silver Tanka, Dehli, date off flan, obv ruler's titles, single square with circle, rev caliph al-Mustansir, double square within circle (G&G D112). Very fine and a very rare type. £250-300

Raziyya was overthrown in a rebellion and replaced by Bahram, who was another son of Iltutmish. Bahram, however, was a mere puppet in the hands of the Turkish nobility, who had the real power. The Sultan, tiring of his lack of power, committed various unwise acts, which caused the nobles to depose and execute him.

- 937 Sultans of Dehli, 'Ala al-Din Mas'ud (AH 639-644; AD 1242-1246), Silver Tanka, Dehli, dated (63)9 on reverse, obv ruler's titles, rev caliph al-Mustansir (G&G D120). Very fine, very scarce with this date. £100-120

Mas'ud struck Tankas initially, up to the year 641, in the name of the caliph al-Mustansir and then in the name of al-Must'asim. Most of the Dehli coins are found with the date off flan or only partly visible.

- 938 Sultans of Dehli, 'Ala al-Din Mas'ud (AH 639-644; AD 1242-1246), Silver Tankas (3), Dehli, dates not clear, obv ruler's titles, rev caliph al-Mustansir (G&G D120). Very fine, scarce. (3) £80-100

- 939 Sultans of Dehli, Mubarak Shah (AH 824-837; 1421-1434), Double Falus, date not clear (G&G D662); Muhammad bin Farid (AH 837-849; AD 1434-1445), Billon Tankas (2), AH843, AH845 (G&G D672). Very fine and scarce, the Tankas with some adhesions. (3) £60-80

- 940 Sultans of Dehli, Sikandar Shah Suri (AH 961?-962; AD 1554?-1555), Copper Paisa, date off flan (G&G D1153). About very fine and rare. £50-80

It was the Suri ruler, Sher Shah, who introduced a radical and important monetary reform in his realms. He did away with the prevalent billon and small copper coinage of the Sultans of Dehli and replaced it with good quality silver Rupees and 20 gram copper Paisas, coinage types which formed the basis of Akbar, the great Mughal ruler's coinage some years later. As often happened, the final years of Suri rule were ones of factionalism and rebellions.

- 947 Jahangir, Rupee, Qandahar, year 11, month of Amardad (KM 145.13). Very fine. £30-50
- 948 Jahangir, Copper Trambiyo, 3.04g, struck at Delwada, a small town in Saurashtra. Very fine and rare. £60-80

The Delwada on these rare coins of Jahangir and Akbar has been identified with the town of Delwara near Udaipur but Dr Bhandare, in an article in JONS 205, demonstrates that the more likely mint place is Delwada near Diu in Saurashtra. This is a place with some religious significance and may also have served as a port in the past. The known coins of this mint come in three denominations that do not conform to the normal imperial weight standard but do conform to the local Saurashtra coinage of trambiyo, dokda and dhinglo (see Kutch, for example).

- 949 Shah Jahan I (AH 1037-1068; AD 1628-1658), Rupee, Golkonda, undated, full mintname visible. Good very fine, scarce with full mintname. £50-60

- 953 Aurangzeb (AH 1068-1118; AD 1658-1707), Rupee, Burhanpur, AH 1115, year 47 (KM 300.24). Very fine. £20-30

This coin will have been struck at Fort St David some time between 11 December 1748 and 8 April 1749.

Both with the so called "pig" obverse that was supposed to have only been used in 1911. It seems that not all the 1911 dies were retouched to make the elephant look more like an elephant and the dies came into use again, accidentally or intentionally, eight years later

These were used at banks to take in old, worn and underweight Rupees. One would assume the standards changed over time, but it is also likely that the weights were used in different parts of India. The following few lots will show that this went on for some time

- 1005 Victoria, Copper 1/2-Rupee Weight, uniface, flan inscribed MINIMUM WEIGHT OF HALF RUPEE 13/32 TOLA; Copper 2-Annas Weight, uniface, flan inscribed MINIMUM WEIGHT OF 1/8 RUPEE 7/64 TOLA. First toned, about extremely fine, the second a little dirty, extremely fine. (2) £150-250

The example in the Diana collection, graded SP68 sold for £2400. The toning on this current specimen is more attractive but there is a small mark on the neck under the tone that probably made this a 66 (only!)

- 1058 C Brooke, Specimen 10-Cents, 1910H (KM 9). In PCGS holder graded SP67. £1000-1500

The example in the Diana collection, graded SP68 sold for £2800. The current specimen is just as nice and is a legitimate contender for re-grading.

£1000-1500

The example in the Diana collection, graded SP69 sold for £4400. This may sound a little high but the opportunity to buy anything in SP69 is a special event. The tone on this current specimen is every bit as good as the Diana specimen, though there is a very small lint mark under the obverse tone. Nevertheless, a superb coin!

1061 C Brooke, 5-Cents, 1913H (KM 8). Frosty about uncirculated.

£100-150

1062 C V Brooke, 1-Cent, 1941H (KM 18). Choice about uncirculated, with red through the legend, rare. £500-800

The example in the Diana collection was a little more toned and sold for £800. A few of these have been found over the last few years, adding 10-20 to the known examples, but still keeping it as a rare coin for the British Commonwealth series.

- 1084 George VI, Proof Sixpence, 1942 (KM 17). In NGC holder graded PR63, lightly and pleasantly toned.
£150-250

Really a better grade than "63"; not that that should matter very much for this series where mint state examples are almost impossible to find.

- 1085 Elizabeth II, Proof Crowns (2), 1953, different edge readings, one is the 'error' where "CAMEREALITY" doesn't have a space between the two words (KM 27). Proofs, choice uncirculated. (2) £100-200
